

MAYORS MESSAGE | Mayor Lyle Holmgren

OUR VOICE – YOUR VOICE

Tremonton is a growing and vibrant community and just like many of you, I love our hometown feel and how family friendly it is and just like you we are always looking for ways to make it better. Recently, the city conducted a survey where we asked people to comment on the benefits Tremonton provides its residents. The survey also asked residents how we as a city can do better. For example, many residents expressed deep worries over the city's recent growth and question whether our infrastructure can keep up. Communication between residents and city leaders was also a deep concern.

I understand. So, over the next several months, I hope to answer these and other questions and concerns here in this newsletter. When you attend our council meetings, I hope you will share your thoughts and ideas on ways we can make our community better for everyone. If you see me around town or in the grocery store, I am more than happy to discuss your concerns and listen to your suggestions.

Following are two areas of concern, growth and water. I know there are others, they will follow in upcoming newsletters. READ MORE.....

Build Our Future Together - Connect With Us.

Tremonton is a unique city focused on connections. We are connected with our rich heritage as a town founded by immigrants who created a welcoming, supportive community. We are connected in our vision of a bright future that remembers our roots, preserves our values, and grows with intelligence and intention without compromising what makes our city special. We are connected to each other through our small-town spirit where neighbors know and help one another and residents and city officials alike listen and collaborate. We are connected to the land and nature with beautiful outdoor surroundings, fun adventures, and agricultural ties. We are connected to all that our valley offers— meaningful work, quality education, entertainment, incredible outdoor adventure, and more—as well as the world at large with easy access to key highways and lightning-fast internet connection. Tremonton is a City of Connections, and it's what makes our town a gem of Northern Utah.

Winter Parking Restrictions Extended

As we enter March with about 150% of annual snow fall, the Winter Parking Restrictions is extended as more snow storms are expected throughout March. Please no on street parking during these snow storms to allow snow plow drivers to do their job effectively. Keep your mail boxes and the nearest fire hydrant clear of snow.
